THE
NATIONAL MEMORIAL CEREMONY
Families of October 7th

On the evening of October 7, 2025, the people of Israel and Jews around the world, will pause once again in unity to remember the lives lost in the October 7th massacre — a tragedy that has forever shaped the Jewish people and the State of Israel.

This National Memorial Ceremony, organized and led by KUMU and the Families of October 7th, is the only official-scale commemoration taking place on the very day of the tragedy. Last year, the first Ceremony became a historic national moment: transcending politics, religion, and divisions, it gave voice to survivors, families, and every sector of Israeli society. It built a bridge connecting Israel with Jewish communities across the globe.

Streaming Worldwide

For the first time, AID Coalition, in partnership with KUMU and the Families of October 7th, will bring this ceremony directly to Jewish communities worldwide with live streaming dedicated to the international community, with close caption translation in English and Spanish.

- Live Broadcast (English Only): October 7 at 9:30 PM Israel Time (2:30 PM ET / 11:30 AM PT)
- Special Rebroadcast (English & Spanish): upon request.

Why This Matters

- A ceremony by the families, for the families, yet belonging to all of us.
- A chance for Jewish communities everywhere to gather, mourn, and stand in solidarity together and with Israel.
- An opportunity to reaffirm our shared values of

This is our moment to stand as one people — bound by memory, sustained by community, and committed to hope.
